

Sanja Kiš Žuvela (PhD) is an Assistant Professor of Musicology and Vice Dean for Study Programs and Lifelong Learning at the Academy of Music, University of Zagreb. Born in Zagreb, she graduated from her hometown university with an MA Degree in Music Theory and an MSc Degree in Musicology. She received her PhD in Interdisciplinary Humanities from the University of Split. Her principal research interests include the analysis of 20th century music, music perception, and cognition, relationships between music and visual arts, music and language, cognitive linguistics, and issues of contemporary musical terminology. She is the author of various texts which include a book, The Golden Section and the Fibonacci Sequence in 20th Century Music (Zagreb 2011). Her current research in the field of the Psychology of Music deals with the perception of bitonality and cognitive aspects of aural training in professional music education.

see more:

<http://www.muza.unizg.hr/2-odsjek-za-muzikologiju/dr-sc-sanja-kis-zuvela-doc/>

<http://www.muza.unizg.hr/english/musicology/assistant-professor-sanja-kis-zuvela-phd/>

email: skiszuvela@muza.hr